

RESHUFFLE IN BFFF COMMERCIAL TEAM

Changes in the BFFF commercial team take place this month as, after many years of contributing a huge commitment to BFFF's development and working some very long hours in the process, Lynn Thomas, our Commercial and Business Services Manager, has decided to seek a better work/life balance by making a change in her working arrangements. No need to panic though as Lynn will continue to be responsible for the management of the Federation's major events, the Annual Luncheon and the Gala Dinner Dance and Awards Evening. Lynn will be handing over responsibility for some of the other activities and projects at present under her remit to Graeme Day who will take over responsibility for the Annual Awards, Bulletin and IFE, taking on the role of Trade and Sales Manager.

With the able assistance of Jilly Ratty, Candy Hardy and Margaret Greaves, it will be business as usual in the commercial team at BFFF with our dedicated team working together to deliver a range of activities and business services to our membership.

We thank Lynn enormously for the management of the range of activities within her commercial responsibility that she has led so successfully over many years and wish her every happiness with her new arrangements to reduce her working hours. Equally we wish Graeme every success in maintaining and developing the quality and standards in his new areas of responsibility that are the hallmark of the BFFF commercial activities provided for our members.
