

NUTRITIONAL LABELLING DEBATE GDA VERSUS TRAFFIC LIGHTS

We have published on a regular basis, in the T&L update, how the national debate is progressing on displaying nutritional data on pack.

It will always be a decision to be taken by an individual member, having considered your particular business interests, but we would be more than happy at BFFF to discuss this topic further with member companies if that could possibly help you with your deliberations in this difficult and political area.
